

Problem Set 4

1. C++ program to read and print students information using two classes (one class contains Name, Address and another class contains Roll and CGPA) using single/simple inheritance.
2. C++ program to read and print students information using two classes (one class contains Name, Address and another class contains Roll and CGPA) using Multilevel inheritance.
3. C++ program to read and print employee information (one class contains Name, Designation and another class contains Salary and Experience) using multiple inheritance.
4. C++ program of hierarchical inheritance to get the square and cube of a number.